Details of the Activity
1	Title: Corporate Governance & Sustainable Development
2	Learning Objectives: Enabling students to contribute to sustainable development by promoting societal, economic and political change as well as by transforming their own behaviour.
3	Learning Outcomes: 1. Identify and critically analyse the social environmental and economic dimension of sustainability 2. Develop a capacity to integrative thinking and practice
4	Description Sustainable Development is an interdisciplinary field, which involves knowledge from Environmental Economics, Policy Making, and Resource Management. Sustainable Development is a subject that aims to limit the usage of fossil fuels and encourages the adoption of alternative renewable energy sources that can limit human impact on the environment. As a student taking a Sustainable Development course will have to determine if a project is efficient enough or if it will just drain resources and damage the environment in the long run.
